

Planning Board Public Comment Period Policy

The Planning Board has a long history of accommodating public comment on nearly all agenda items. It has done so while ensuring and protecting the due process rights of applicants and members of the public on matters presently or anticipated to be brought before the Board. The purpose of this policy is to establish some foundational rules for allowing a public comment period regarding matters that are not on the Planning Board agenda while continuing to protect the due process rights of all persons. Nothing in this policy is intended to alter the Board's long practice of allowing (at the Chair's discretion) public comment on posted agenda items.

A public comment period is to encourage the public to offer ideas for future discussions and agenda items. It is not to be used to debate current or past agenda items or items pending for future agendas.

The Board shall have on its agenda a period for public comment regarding items not on the agenda. This public comment period shall operate under the following conditions:

- 1) The public comment period shall be allowed after all posted agenda items have been completed. Accordingly, it shall be listed under "Other New Business" before "Development Update". Alternatively, the period can be posted at the very beginning of the meeting. To accommodate the Public Comment period at the beginning of the meeting, consideration of minutes and correspondence will be placed immediately prior to the "Development Update" on the agenda.
- 2) The public comment period shall be limited to 10 minutes in total
- 3) Persons speaking during the public comment period shall adhere to the following rules:
 - a. Sign up at the beginning of the meeting and list the topic they wish to speak about
 - b. Persons are not to speak until authorized by the Chair.
 - c. Comments should not be regarding any item which is on the posted agenda as the Board generally affords the public an opportunity to comment on such posted agenda items.
 - d. Comments must comply with the "Visitors Code of Conduct" adopted by the Selectboard.
 - e. The comments are limited to 2 minutes per person
 - f. Persons must are encouraged to come to the front of the room and speak from the "speakers" chair – not from their chair or position in the audience – as this will better ensure that they can be clearly heard by all present and those who may watch the recording of the meeting. Whether or not persons may address the Board from their position in the audience is at the discretion of the Chair (whether or not it hinders the Board's or audience's ability to hear and understand the speaker, whether or not it disrupts the functioning of the meeting, etc.). This determination will likely be made based on experience the Board has with the Public Comment speakers over time. However, the Chair will make such determination uniformly and announce the determination prior to the beginning of the Public Comment Period.

- g. The Planning Board has no role in Zoning Bylaw enforcement. Accordingly, the public is expected to refrain from making comments regarding allegations of zoning violations are not appropriate as (those should be taken directly to the Building Commissioner who is the Zoning Enforcement Officer.
 - h. Comments must respect applicants' and abutters' rights of due process. Therefore, the public is expected to refrain from making comments regarding applications for approvals (Site Plan, Special Permit, Subdivision Definitive Plan, Stormwater Management Permit, or Zoning Map Amendment not requested or proposed by the Planning Board) items which are to be subject to a public hearing and for which an application has already been received. Further, the public hearing is the appropriate time in which make such comments.
- 4) The Board is not anticipated to comment on any of the public comments presented under this item. Rather, all members will take the public comments which appropriately conform to the Board's policy under consideration.
- 5) Following the meeting, and after making necessary research on the items, the Planning Director will discuss with the Chair as to the appropriate meeting at which to schedule Planning Board discussion of any of the relevant/appropriate items offered in the public comment period.
